Weekly Project Summary Report

Generated: 2026-02-19 09:00

Summary:

The recent commits and updates describe the progression of a project in February 2026.
- Date: 2026-02-18
- Time: The commits have timestamps indicating when each action was taken.
- Actions:
  - `add new report`: A new feature or document has been added to the project.
  - `Wrap PDF report text and add margins`: This commit likely involves formatting a PDF report with appropriate margins.
  - `Save summary and raw commits as PDF`: The project now has generated PDF reports containing summaries and raw commit data.
  - `Update AI prompt`: The project might be using artificial intelligence for some tasks, and the prompt has been updated accordingly.
  - `Changed AI model`: A more precise or larger AI model has likely been used in the project to improve performance.
- `Enhanced prompt` and `Update summary.py`: These commits imply continuous improvement of the prompts or the main script responsible for generating reports.
In summary, these commits reflect a series of actions taken between February 18, 2026, and likely earlier in the same month, to update and enhance a project using AI and PDF report generation techniques.

Raw Commits:

- 2026-02-18 15:57:06: added new report
- 2026-02-18 15:55:42: Wrap PDF report text and add margins
Import textwrap and add line-wrapping and consistent margins to the PDF report generator. Compute a margin and an approximate max_line_width for Helvetica 12, wrap summary and raw commit lines so long lines don't overflow, and update y-start positions and page-break checks to use the margin. Adjust header spacing and reapply fonts after new pages to maintain layout.
- 2026-02-18 15:51:06: Save summary and raw commits as PDF
Add generated PDF reports and update PDF export to include raw commits. summary.py: import os, change save_summary_pdf signature to accept raw_commits, ensure reports directory exists, write file into reports/, add bold "Summary:" and "Raw Commits:" headings, adjust fonts and pagination, and pass raw commits from __main__. Also add generated PDF files (20260218_summary.pdf and reports/20260218_summary.pdf).
